tones, and be represented by three notes. Such divisions are called TRIPLETS, and are usually indicated by the figure 3. over or under the notes.

NOTE.—Rhythmic exercises, designed to illustrate the subject of this chapter, should be introduced as they are needed. The following may be regarded as examples.

NOTE.—A most valuable classification of measure into primitive and derived forms, in the use of which the pupil may be made practically acquainted with all the relations of the length of tones, may be found in various elementary treatises by the author of this work, and especially in his last book, the HALLELUJAH. It is omitted here, but it is recommended to teachers to make themselves familiar with it. It was originally published by Kübler of Stuttgart, Wurtemberg.

CHAPTER IV.

VARIETIES OF MEASURE.

§ 16. Different notes may be used to represent the parts of measures in each kind of measure; and these different usages of notes are called VARIETIES OF MEASURE.

§ 17. As figures are used to designate the kinds of measure, so also figures are used to designate varieties of measure. The figures being written as in the representation of fractions, the kind of measure is designated by the numerator, and the variety of measure is designated by the denominator.

NOTE.—Varieties of measure merely furnish different signs for the same thing. To the ear they are the same, to the eye only do they differ; the movement or degree of quickness depending not in the least on the kind of notes, which represent no positive, but only a relative length.

EXAMPLES OF SOME OF THE MOST COMMON VARIETIES OF MEASURE.

CHAPTER V.

MELODICS—THE SCALE, ITS NAMES AND SIGNS.

NOTE.—Before any explanation of the scale is attempted, or definitions or signs are given, let the scale itself, or a part of it, be presented, by being sung slowly and distinctly by the teacher, beginning with the pitch C, to the syllable ta. Let it be repeated until the class have obtained a clear idea of it, after which, and not before, they may be required to sing it. Careful attention should be given to quality of tone, which, with everything belonging to taste, should be cultivated from the beginning. When the scale has been thus taught, or when the pupils have become so familiar with it as to have some correct appreciation of it as a connected series of tones, and can also sing it with tolerable accuracy, names, definitions, and signs may follow.

§ 18. The Scale. Musical sounds or tones, when considered with respect to the relation of pitch existing between them, are arranged in a certain series called the SCALE; thus the scale is a succession of eight tones, in a certain order of relative pitch.

§ 19. Names of the Tones of the Scale. The tones of the scale are named from the names of numbers, beginning with the lowest, thus:

ONE, TWO, THREE, FOUR, FIVE, SIX, SEVEN, EIGHT.

§ 20. The Staff. The relative pitch of tones is represented by a character called the STAFF.

§ 21. Degrees of the Staff. Each line and each space of the staff is called a DEGREE; thus the staff contains nine degrees, counted upwards from the low est, there being five lines and four spaces.

§ 23. Syllables. In elementary singing-exercises, or as helps to beginners, the following syllables are used in connection with the tones of the scale, and are applied to them, as follows :

Written. Do, Re, Me, Fa, Sol, La, Si, Do.
Pronounced. Doe, Ray, Mee, Fah, Sol, Lah, See, Doe.

§ 24. Absolute Pitch. Letters. Absolute pitch, or the pitch of tones independent of scale relationship, is indicated by letters, as A, B, C, D, E, F, G.

§ 25. C as One of the Scale. Key of C. In the first steps of musical study, C is taken as the pitch of the tone one, or as the basis of the scale, and the scale is then said to be in the key of C. The order of the scale-tones in the key of C is thus : C is one, D is two, E is three, F is four, G is five, A is six, B is seven, C is eight.

§ 26. The Scale as represented on the Staff. The scale may be represented on the staff in various positions ; the two following are the most common : 1st, the tone one being represented by the added line below ; 2d, the tone one being represented by the second space.

§ 27. Clefs. To determine the position and pitch of the scale as represented on the staff, one of the letters is used as a sign or guide, and when thus used is called a CLEF.

§ 28. Clef-Letters. The letters commonly used as clefs are F and G.

NOTE.—The letter C is also taken for a Clef, and when thus used it has three positions, but since it is not much used, it is not thought necessary to explain it here.

§ 29. The F Clef is placed upon the fourth line, and determines the pitch of that line to be F.

§ 30. The G Clef is placed upon the second line, and determines the pitch of that line to be G.

NOTE.—It should be understood that a clef is merely a letter differing in shape from its ordinary form.

EXAMPLE.

PRACTICAL EXERCISES.

1. THE SCALE IN DIFFERENT RHYTHMIC FORMS.

1. War, he sung, is toil and trouble, Hon-or but an empty bubble!

2. Hal - le - lu - jah, A - men. Hal - le - lu - jah, A - men.

3. This may be sung in two parts, or as a Round.
1 No, no, no, no, no, Yes, yes, yes, I will.

NOTE.—By a Round is meant a piece of music in which one part commences after another, and follows round in a regular order. In the above Round for two parts, the second voice or voices should commence when the first voice or voices arrive at the figure 2.

4. 'Tis win - ter, 'tis win - ter, the morn - ing is gray, A old - - look - ing sky is a - bove us to - day.

Ev-er to oth-ers be kind and true, As you would have them to be to you.

6.

7. ROUND.

O haste, O haste, O haste, Do not de-lay!

Yes, I will, I will, I will, I will a-way

8.

Do Re Mi Fa Sol La Si Do, Do Si La Sol Fa Mi Re Do.

NOTE.—The scale, as here represented, should be daily sung, in long, sustained tones, and with great attention to steadiness, firmness, and to an open, full, sonorous quality of voice

CHAPTER VI.

MELODICS—SKIPS.

§ 31. A melody or tune may proceed not only by the regularly successive steps or degrees of the scale, but also by skips.

§ 32. The easiest and most natural skips are those which occur between the tones one, three, five, and eight.

NOTE.—The pupil should be exercised in these tones, or in skipping from one to another until they become so familiar with them as to name them when they hear them, or to produce them when they are named or called for by the teacher; and from this they should be led to the practical knowledge of each tone in connection with each other tone of the scale, until they are enabled to make any skips which may be called for by the teacher.

9. PRACTICAL EXERCISES IN SKIPS.

Sing we re-joicing the boun-teous, heaven-ly haud,

Scat-tering ev-ery bless-ing o'er our hap-py land.

10.

Hear us siug-ing, Mu-sic bring-ing, Voi-ees ring-ing roud;

Voi-ees ring-ing, Mu-sic bring-ing, Hear the cheer-ful sound.

11.

Cull the flow-ers 'Mong the bow-ers, Sweetest po-sies Pinks and ro-ses,

While the thrushes In the bush-es, This warm weather, Sing to-geth-er

CHAPTER VII.

EXTENSION OF THE SCALE, AND CLASSIFICATION OF VOICES.

§ 33. When tones higher than eight are sung, eight is to be regarded also, as one, of an upper scale.

12. PRACTICAL EXERCISES.

Life's a ship in con-stant mo-tion, Whe-ther high or low,
Ev-ery one must brave the o-cean, Though the winds may blow.

13.

O well I love my na-tive land, Its fair and ver-dant hills, My na-tive land full well I love, Which peace and plen-ty fills.

§ 34. When tones lower than one are sung, one is to be regarded, also, as eight, of a lower scale.

14. PRACTICAL EXERCISES.

All the day I'm sing-ing live-ly, Though the day is long,
And from morn-ing dawn to eve-ning Sounds my hap-py song.

15.

Dark and deep the wa-ters flow-ing, While our boat is swift-ly row-ing,
Now the boisterous winds are blowing, And on waves we high are soar-ing,
And the dis-tant thun-der roar-ing, Bids us quick-ly seek the shore;
Yet we safe-ly reach the moor-ing, And our cares and fears are o'er.

§ 35. The human voice is naturally divided into four classes: low male voices, or BASE, high male voices, or TENOR; low female voices, or ALTO, high female voices, or TREBLE.

§ 36. The following example exhibits the usual compass of the human voice, and also that of the different classes, as Base, Tenor, Alto, and Treble.

Tenor. Treble.
Base. Alto.

NOTE.—Besides the above, there are other distinctions, as BARYTONE, between the Base and Tenor, and MEZZO SOPRANO, between the Alto and Treble. The Treble is often called SOPRANO.

§ 37. The F clef is used for Base, the G clef is used for Tenor, Alto, and Treble, but when used for Tenor it denotes G an octave lower than when used for Treble or Alto.

NOTE.—This different use of the G clef for Tenor, and for Alto or Treble, should be clearly illustrated and explained.

16. PRACTICAL EXERCISE.—FOUR PART SONG.

TENOR.
ALTO.
TREBLE.
BASE.

Green the grass is spring-ing, While the birds are sing-ing, Each his mate to cheer;

Fragrant flowers are blooming, Summer bright is com - ing, Fled is win - ter drear.

CHAPTER VIII.

MELODICS—INTERVALS.

NOTE.—A true knowledge of intervals can only be communicated through the ear. Names, definitions, or illustrations, may be given while the pupil obtains no correct idea of the thing itself, which can only be acquired by a careful listening to tones and comparison of them. The ear alone can appreciate or measure intervals. The subject is one which cannot be understood until the ear has been considerably trained: this is the reason why it has not been presented earlier in this course. After intervals have been taught, the following definitions will be easily understood.

§ 38. The difference of pitch between any two tones is called an INTERVAL. Thus, the difference of pitch between one and two is an interval.

§ 39. In the regular succession of the tones of the scale, there are two kinds of intervals, large and small.

§ 40. The large scale-intervals are called STEPS; and the small scale-intervals are called HALF-STEPS.

§ 41. The intervals of the scale occur in the following order:—between one and two, a step; between two and three, a step; between three and four, a half-step; between four and five, a step; between five and six, a step; between six and seven, a step; and between seven and eight, a half-step.

NOTE.—The terms tone and half-tone are in common use to designate these intervals; but as the application of the same word both to sounds and intervals is inconvenient, the discontinuance of the term tone and half-tone is recommended, especially in teaching. As the word ladder (scale) is used for designating the series of tones called the scale, it is quite natural to carry out the figure, and borrow from the ladder the word step by which to designate scale-intervals.

CHAPTER IX.

THE MINOR SCALE.

§ 42. In addition to the scale already explained, there is another scale, differing from that in the relation or succession of its tones, or in the order of its intervals, called the MINOR SCALE; it is the soft scale of the Germans.

NOTE.—The scale which has already been explained, based on C, or of which C is one, may now be called the MAJOR SCALE.

§ 43. The natural Minor Scale is based upon A, or upon six of the Major Scale

NOTE.—The term natural is used here to indicate that the tones of which the scale is composed are the same as those belonging to the scale already explained.

EXAMPLE.

THE NATURAL MINOR SCALE REPRESENTED IN NOTES, WITH THE NAMES OF ITS TONES, THEIR PITCH, AND THE SYLLABLES APPLIED TO THEM IN SOLFAING.

Names. One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight. Eight, seven, six, five, four, three, two, one.
Pitch. A, B, C, D, E, F, G, A, A, G, F, E, D, C, B, A.
Syllables La, si, do, re, mi, fa, sol, la. La, sol, fa, mi, re, do, si, la.

NOTE.—The explanation here given refers to the natural Minor Scale only; the artificial Minor Scale will be explained hereafter.

17. PRACTICAL EXERCISES.

CHAPTER X.

THE CHROMATIC SCALE.

§ 44. Intermediate Tones. Between those tones of the scale which form the interval of a step, an intermediate tone may be introduced : thus, intermediate tones may occur between one and two, two and three, four and five, five and six, and six and seven ; but not between three and four, and seven and eight, because the intervals between these tones are already half-steps, and these are the smallest practicable intervals known in the musical system.

§ 45. Names of Intermediate Tones The intermediate tones are named from the scale-tones between which they occur, but with the addition of the word SHARP or FLAT prefixed or suffixed, to distinguish the name of the former from those of the latter. Thus, the intermediate tone between one and two, or between C and D, may be named from either of these ; if named from one, the word sharp is prefixed, and it is called SHARP-ONE ; if named from two, the word flat is prefixed, and it is called FLAT-TWO ; again, if named from C, the word sharp is suffixed, and it is called C-SHARP ; or if named from D, the word flat is suffixed, and it is called D-FLAT. The same principle is applied to the naming of all the other intermediate tones.

NOTE.—The word sharp is used as a name for a tone, and signifies higher ; thus, by sharp-one is meant a tone which is higher than one, yet not so high as two ; again, the word flat, when used as the name of a tone, signifies lower ; thus, by flat-two is meant a tone which is lower than two, yet not so low as one.

§ 46. Representation of Intermediate Tones. An intermediate tone is represented by a note on the same degree of the staff as is the scale-tone from which it is named ; thus, the tone named sharp-one is represented on the same degree of the staff as is the tone named one, but with a character prefixed to the same degree of the staff, called a SHARP (#). So also, the tone named flat-two is represented by a note on the same degree of the staff as is the tone named two, but with a character prefixed to the same degree of the staff, called a FLAT (b).

NOTE.—It will be observed that the words sharp and flat are used both as names of tones, and as names of characters, signs, or marks of notation.

§ 47. Chromatic Scale. A scale consisting of thirteen tones, including the eight scale-tones, and the five intermediate tones, having twelve intervals of a half-step each, is called the CHROMATIC SCALE.

§ 48. Diatonic Scale. The scale which was first described is called the DIATONIC SCALE. The minor scale is also diatonic.

EXAMPLE

Ascending. THE CHROMATIC SCALE REPRESENTED.

Names.	One,	sharp one,	two,	sharp two,	three,	four,	sharp four,	five,	sharp five,	six,	sharp six,	seven,	eight.
Pitch.	C,	C # ,	D,	D # ,	E,	F,	F # ,	G,	G # ,	A,	A # ,	B,	C.
Syllables.	Do,	di,	re,	ri,	mi,	fa,	fi,	sol,	si,	la,	li,	si,	do.

Descending.

Names.	One,	seven,	seven,	six,	flat-six,	five,	flat-five,	four,	three,	flat-three,	two,	flat-two,	one.
Pitch.	C,	B,	B <sup>b</sup> ,	A,	A <sup>b</sup> ,	G,	G <sup>b</sup> ,	F,	E,	E <sup>b</sup> ,	D,	D <sup>b</sup> ,	C.
Syllables.	Do,	si,	se,	la,	le,	sol,	se,	fa,	me,	me,	re,	ra,	do.

NOTE.—The letter i should always receive the sound of ee in the above syllables ; thus Di is pronounced Dee, Ri is pronounced Ree, etc. Again, the letter e should always receive the sound of the English long a, so that Se is pronounced Sä, Le is pronounced Lā, etc.

§ 49. The characters called sharps and flats continue their significance throughout the measure in which they occur, and also from measure to measure when the same tone is to be repeated, or until canceled by a note written upon some other degree of the staff.

NOTE.—The teacher should be careful to cause his pupils to understand that  $C\sharp$  is not C raised or elevated, and that  $D\flat$  is not D lowered or depressed, but that the tone  $C\sharp$  or  $D\flat$  (by whichever name it may be called) is an independent tone, being in pitch between C and D. It is not possible to elevate or to depress the pitch of a tone. Absolute pitch is, of course, unalterable. The error here pointed out is found in most treatises on music, see "Manual of the Boston Academy of Music," the previous editions of this work, and various other books. It is equally untrue, to say that a sharp raises or elevates, or lowers or depresses a note.

§ 50. Sharps and flats are canceled, or their significance is terminated by a sign called a NATURAL ( $\natural$ ).

NOTE.—Practical exercises are omitted under this head, since it is generally preferable that an ability to sing chromatic passages should be acquired in connection with tunes, or melodies, in which they are found.

CHAPTER XI.

DIATONIC INTERVALS.

§ 51. In addition to the scale-intervals, or to the intervals belonging to the scale in its regular progression, called steps and half-steps, there are also other intervals occasioned by a departure from the regular scale order, or by skipping: as THIRDS, FOURTHS, FIFTHS, SIXTHS, SEVENTHS, and OCTAVES, and there may be MAJOR and MINOR, i. e., larger or smaller.

§ 52. Intervals are always reckoned from the lower tone upwards, unless otherwise expressed.

NOTE.—Tables, or descriptions of these intervals are omitted, as well as exercises in them, since they are better learned by a concrete than by an abstract practice.

CHAPTER XII.

THE MINOR SCALE, CONTINUED.

§ 53. In addition to the natural form of the Minor Scale, as already explained, there are also others, which, being altered from the natural, may be called artificial forms.

§ 54. The first in the present order, is that which differs from the natural form by the introduction of the tone sharp seven, and which is often called the Harmonic Minor Scale.

EXAMPLE.

La Si Do Re Mi Fa  $Si\sharp$  La. La  $Si\flat$  Fa Mi Re Do Si La.

x A half step. + A step and a half step.

§ 55. The second is that which differs from the natural form in ascending, by the introduction of sharp six and sharp seven, but in descending, returns to the natural form; it is often called the Melodic Minor Scale.

EXAMPLE.

La Si Do Re Mi  $F\sharp$   $S\sharp$  La. La Sol Fa Mi Re Do Si La.

NOTE.—Composers and theoretic writers present still other forms of the Minor scale, but which it can be of no practical importance to explain.

§ 56. The natural minor scale commences with A, or A is taken as its pitch, or as one; and as A is six in the major scale of C, it follows, that the minor scale is based upon six of the major scale.

NOTE.—The pupil should be reminded that the word natural, as here used, has reference only to the name of the pitch of the scale, and its representation to the eye.

§ 57. The minor scale based upon six of the major scale, is called its relative minor; and the major scale, based upon three of the minor scale, is called its relative major.

NOTE.—Practical exercises are omitted here, but will be found in connection with the transposition of the scale.

CHAPTER XIII.

TRANSPOSITION OF THE SCALE.

§ 58. When the scale is based on C, it is said to be in its natural position, or natural; but the pitch of the scale may be changed, and, when any other pitch than C is taken as one of the scale, it is said to be TRANSPOSED.

NOTE.—The transposition of the Scale consists not in any change of the position of the notes by which it is represented on the staff, for it may be represented in different positions, while its pitch remains the same, or it may be represented in the same position while its pitch is changed; but it consists in changing the pitch, or in taking some other pitch besides C, as one, or as the basis of the scale.

§ 59. The letter which is taken as the pitch of the scale, or as one, is called the KEY LETTER, or simply the KEY. Thus, if C be taken as one, the scale is said to be in the KEY OF C; if D be taken as one, the scale is said to be in the KEY OF D, and so on. By the key of C, is meant that the scale is based on C, or that C is taken as one; by the key of D, is meant that the Scale is based on D, or that D is taken as one, and so on.

§ 60. In transposing the scale, its proper relations, or its proper intervals, must be preserved: thus, if the transposition be from C to G, or if G be taken as one, the tone which is a step higher than G, named by another letter (A), will necessarily be two; that tone which is a step higher than A, named by another letter (B), will be three; the tone which is a half step higher than B, named by another letter (C), will be four; and so on.

§ 61. This scale relationship, or the proper order of scale intervals, must be preserved by the introduction, or use, of the intermediate tones, or the tones named sharp, or flat; or, in other words, in transposing the scale, it is necessary to omit certain tones belonging to the key, from which the transposition is made, and to introduce such intermediate tones as may be required to constitute the new key.

NOTE.—The difficulty in transposing the scale consists in the transfer of absolute to relative pitch.

CHAPTER XIV.

TRANSPPOSITION OF THE SCALE BY FIFTHS.

§ 62. First transposition of the scale by fifths, from C to G. All the tones which constitute the key of C will be found to belong also to the key of G, with the exception of F.

§ 63. To preserve the proper order of intervals between six and seven, and between seven and eight in this transposition, it is necessary to omit F, and to take F sharp as seven in the new key.

§ 64. The sign of F sharp (#) is placed at the beginning of the staff, immediately after the clef, and is called the SIGNATURE (sign) of the key. Thus, the signature of the key of G, and also of its relative minor E, is one sharp, or F sharp. The signature of the key of C, and also of its relative minor A, is said to be natural.

NOTE.—The true idea of transposition cannot be acquired from verbal explanations, or descriptions, or from signs, diagrams, or ocular illustrations; the subject can only be fully appreciated by the presentation of the reality through the ear. The words used to define transposition, or the signs of transposition, are often mistaken for the reality, and pupils are supposed to understand the thing itself, when they have only been made acquainted with its nomenclature, or with the manner of its representation. But while transposition is one thing, and a visual illustration of it quite another, insufficient, of itself, yet, since illustrations of the kind may be of some aid to the learner, we present the following:—

ILLUSTRATION OF THE TRANSPPOSITION OF THE SCALE FROM C TO G.

EXPLANATION.—On the upper staff, in the above diagram, the Scale is represented in the Key of C. The distances of the notes, one from another, represent the intervals. On the lower staff, G is taken as one, A as two, B as three, C as four, D as five, E as six; and thus far the intervals are right. But as the interval between six and seven must be a step, it is seen at once that F will not do for seven, because the interval between E and F is but a half-step; it becomes necessary, therefore, to omit F, and to take the intermediate tone, F#, for seven, and this secures the proper interval between six and seven, viz., a step. The interval between F# and G being a half-step, G is taken as eight, and the Scale is complete in the key of G; so that the tones which constitute the Scale in the key of G, are, G, A, B, C, D, E, F#, and G.

TRANSPOSITION OF THE SCALE BY FOURTHS.

§ 68. First transposition of the scale by fourths; from C to F. To preserve the identity of the scale, or the proper order of intervals between three and four, and between four and five, in this transposition, it is necessary to take  $B\flat$  as four in the new key.  $B\flat$  is, therefore, the signature to the key of F.

CHAPTER XVI.

APPOGIATURA—TURN—SHAKE OR TRILL—PORTAMENTO.

§ 72. Passing Tones. Tones not essentially belonging to a melody are often introduced into music, called PASSING TONES. They are sometimes represented by notes of smaller size than those in which the music is written, though this distinction is not generally observed.

§ 73. Apoggiatura. When a passing tone precedes an essential tone on an accented part of a measure, it is called an APPOGIATURA.

§ 74. After Tone. When a passing tone follows an essential tone, on an unaccented part of a measure, it is called an AFTER TONE.

§ 75. The Shake or Trill. A rapid alternation of a tone with the conjoint tone above it, at an interval of either a step or a half-step, is called a SHAKE or TRILL.

§ 76. The Turn. A tone sung in rapid succession with the conjoint tones above and below it, so as to produce a winding or turning melodic motion or movement, is called a TURN.

§ 77. Portamento. When the voice is instantaneously conducted by a concrete passage, or graceful and almost imperceptible glide, from one tone to another, so as to produce a momentary previous recognition or anticipation of the coming tone, such a carriage or transition of the voice, or such a blending or melting of one tone into another, is called PORTAMENTO.

NOTE 1.—The portamento should only occur between tones of comparatively long duration, and in connection with words or tones expressive of deep emotion. This beautiful grace, which, when properly introduced, gives an inexpressible charm to singing, is sometimes, nay often, most sadly misrepresented, caricatured, or counterfeited, and coarse slides, or vocal avalanches are heard in its place. Ferrari, in his "Singing Method," has applied the very significant term "harsh shrieks" to these frightful lurchings of the voice; but, by whatever name they may be called, they should be most watchfully and determinedly eschewed.

NOTE 2.—The ornaments, graces, or embellishments of vocal music, some of which have been merely glanced at in this chapter, with the partial exception of passing tones, cannot be said to belong to ordinary singing, and certainly not to choir or chorus-singing. The turn, the shake, and the portamento, rather belong to that artistic style which can only be acquired by the few possessing naturally great flexibility of voice, accuracy of ear, quickness of musical perception, and habits of persevering application; nor should they be attempted, even by these, until they have been carefully studied for years under the direction of an accomplished teacher.

CHAPTER XVII.

DEGREES OF POWER.

§ 78. Mezzo. A musical sound of medium power or force is called MEZZO, (pronounced met-zo;) such a sound is indicated by the term mezzo, or by an abbreviation of it, as mez., or by its initial, m.

§ 79. Piano. A tone somewhat softer than mezzo, or a soft tone, is called PIANO. (pee-äh-no.) and is indicated by the term piano, pia., or p.

§ 80. Forte. A tone somewhat louder than mezzo, or a loud tone, is called FORTE, (für-te, or four-te,) and is indicated by the term forte, for., or f.

§ 81. Pianissimo. A tone softer than piano is called PIANISSIMO, (pee-äh-niss-i-mo.) and is indicated by pp.

§ 82. Fortissimo. A tone louder than forte is called FORTISSIMO, (fore-tiss-i-mo.) and is indicated by ff.

NOTE.—There are also modifications of the above-named degrees of power, as Mezzo-Forte, Mezzo Piano.

CHAPTER XVIII.

FORM OF TONES.

§ 83. Organ Form. A tone commenced, continued, and ended with an equal degree of power, is called an ORGAN FORM, or an ORGAN TONE. It may be indicated by parallel lines, thus:  $\text{— — —}$

NOTE 1.—The Organ Form takes its name from the organ pipe, which can only produce a tone of one equal degree of power.

NOTE 2.—The Organ Form is not often used in vocal music, except in passages in which one part holds a steady tone for a considerable time, while the other parts sing various harmonies.

§ 84. Crescendo Form. A tone commencing piano, and gradually increasing to forte, is called CRESCENDO, (cre-schén-do.) It is indicated by cres., or by two divergent lines, thus:  $\text{< — — —}$

§ 85. Diminuendo Form. A tone commencing forte, and gradually diminishing to piano, is called DECRESCENDO or DIMINUENDO, (dé-cre-schen-do, or dim-in-oo-en-do.) It is intimated by deces., dim., or by two convergent lines, thus:  $\text{> — — —}$

§ 86. Swell. A union of the crescendo and the decrescendo produces the SWELL FORM: indicated by the union of the divergent and convergent lines, thus:  $\text{< — — — >}$

NOTE 1.—The swell is sometimes called the Drawn Tone; the term Messa di voce, is also used to designate this tone form.

NOTE 2.—The acquisition of this form of tone is one of the most difficult things in the art of song. It constitutes the polish or finishing touch in artistic excellence. "It is the result," says Garcia, in his admirable "School of Singing," "of all other studies;" and again, "to draw the tones well is to be a good singer."

NOTE 3.—The application of Crescendo, and Diminuendo to phrases and sections, or to passages of several measures, is comparatively easy, and constitutes one of the greatest beauties of choir singing.

§ 87. Pressure Form. A very sudden crescendo or swell, is called the PRESSURE FORM. It is thus marked,  $\text{< >}$ .

NOTE.—This dynamic form is sometimes used to express ridicule, sarcasm, or irony. It belongs mostly to burlesque, to the ludicrous, or to the comic in singing.

§ 88. Sforzando. A tone which is produced very suddenly and forcibly, and instantly diminished, is called an EXPLOSIVE TONE, or SFORZANDO, or FORZANDO, (sfört-zán do, or fört-zán-do.) It is designated thus  $\text{>}$ , or by sf, or fz.

NOTE 1.—This tone-form is of great importance both to the speaker and to the singer. The energetic style of singing, as in many of Handel's choruses, for example, is much dependent upon it; indeed some degree of it is always needed in the very first utterance of the voice, for without it the tone will be destitute of life and expression. Its power is distinctly felt in the manner in which good performers on stringed or wind instruments produce their tones, or in the very first utterance of a tone, or in the manner in which the attack is made upon it. Much of the dullness, heaviness, stupidity, and lifelessness so prevalent in vocal music, and especially in choir-singing, is to be attributed to the absence of this dynamic form of delivery. It is by no means intended that every tone should be given Sforzando; far indeed from this, but the element of Sforzando is to tones the life-giving power. It is, however, very liable to be overdone, and even caricatured; it requires, therefore, much discretion in its application, for, unless it be directed by good taste, it will be likely to degenerate into a mere lungeing or jerking of the voice, grunt-like, coarse, and disagreeable.

NOTE 2.—The mark indicating the pressure form of tone is often printed instead of that which indicates the Forzando. The observance of the mark as thus erroneously applied would, in many cases, be quite ludicrous. The mark is often applied in this form,  $\text{^}$ .

CHAPTER XIX.

EMISSION OF TONE, PURITY OF TONE, WORDS, ETC.

NOTE.—If there is anything of elementary importance in teaching singing-classes, it is that of vocal utterance, or the emission of the voice. This should engage the most careful attention of the teacher from the very first attempts of the pupil to produce musical sounds. A good delivery of the voice, and also purity of tone, should be sought for in the very first lessons, and they should be kept constantly in view during the whole course of instruction.

§ 89. Emission of Tone. Vocal utterance, or the emission of tone, should be instantaneous, decided, and firm; without drawling, hesitancy, unsteadiness, and the like. The tone should be produced by a very distinct movement or motion of the glottis, which, being shut, is suddenly opened for the emission of the sound, as by a "vigorous shock." This motion, or "shock of the glottis," has been compared to the action of the lips energetically pronouncing the letter p, or to the action in the vault of the palate in articulating the hard c, as in come, or k, as in kind. The tone thus produced strikes the ear at the precise point of time, as by percussion. Like a spark from a living coal, it has life and power, and makes itself felt. Garcia, in his singing-school, says, "I recommend the shock of the glottis as the only means of obtaining sounds purely and without bungling;" and again he says, "the master must insist on the tones being attained by the shock of the glottis."

NOTE 1.—Any one who gives attention to the production of tones by a good instrumentalist, or to the manner in which they strike the ear when the attack is made upon them, or when they are first brought forth by a skilful player, cannot fail to observe their great superiority in promptness and energy of delivery to those usually heard in singing. The contrast between the delivery of instrumental and vocal tones in a performance of choral music with orchestral accompaniment is very great; while the instrumental tones will be given with decision, pith, and character, the voice will be tardily drawn out, heavy, dull, and lifeless. Indeed, choir or chorus-singing can hardly be heard without revealing the fact that whatever proficiency may have been made in reading music, so far as it relates to time and tune, the proper use of the vocal organs in the enunciation or emission of tone has been sadly neglected.

NOTE 2.—Caution. In the attempt to acquire the true delivery of the voice, there is danger that one may go too far, and substitute a shock of the lungs, or of the chest, or of the whole vocal region for one of the glottis merely. This may result in a violent outbreak, rough and boisterous, calling forth the remark, "he sings by main force." It hardly need be said that this extreme should be avoided. There is a proper medium for the utterance of tones, between a careless, indolent, drawing manner on the one hand, and a terrible vocal eruption on the other.

NOTE 3.—Let it not be supposed that an accurate idea of the production of vocal tones can be communicated by any attempt at description; the true idea can only be imparted by illustration, or by living example. No one who cannot himself produce a tone in a proper manner, can teach a pupil to do so, for by pattern, or by example, the work must be done. As it is of little use for a man to preach religion who is not himself a virtuous or good man, so the work of a teacher of vocal music, who, in addition to good definitions or descriptions, does not also give good vocal examples, cannot be of much value.

§ 90. Purity of Tone. A tone is pure when it is full, round, sonorous, and resonant, and when no extraneous sound is mixed with it; it is impure when it is stifled or muffled, when it is guttural or nasal, or when it partakes of an aspirated, husky, or hissing quality.

NOTE.—"The purest tone is obtained, first, by flattening the whole length of the tongue; second, by partially raising the veil of the palate; third, by separating the pillars at their base."—GARCIA.

NOTE.—The complaint is often made that the words cannot be heard, or are not carefully spoken in singing; but it cannot be expected that one who delivers the voice (tones) in a careless, indifferent, lifeless manner, should articulate or pronounce words in any other way, whereas, if the habit of a careful utterance or emission of tones has been formed, it is almost sure that there will be a corresponding attention to words. A proper production of tones is a pre-requisite to a good enunciation of words.

§ 91. Vowel or Tonic Elements. It is upon the tonic sounds (vowels), only, that the voice should dwell in singing. They should be formed with accuracy, and carefully prolonged, without change. To insure this, the same position of the vocal organs should be preserved during the whole continuance of a tone, no change or motion of the throat, mouth, or tongue, nor indeed of the head or body, should be permitted.

NOTE.—It is a very common fault for singers to pass from the tonic element, and to allow the voice to dwell upon a subordinate sound; as the vanish of a compound tonic element, or some succeeding or final consonant sound admitting of prolongation. Thus, for example, the word arm, is often erroneously sung ä---r---m, or är---m, instead of ä---rm; the word great, is sung greä---e---t, or greäe---t, instead of greä---t; the word charge, is sung chä---r---ge, or chär---ge, instead of chä---rge; the word fear, is sung fear---, or fë---ar---, instead of fë---ar. It would be easy to multiply examples, but these must suffice.

§ 92. The most important vocal element to the singer is that which is heard in the word ah, as in arm, harm, charge, calm, etc., and which is represented by the letter a with two dots over it, thus, ä. This is the richest, most open, broad, and euphonious sound that can be found in any language, or that can be produced by the human voice. It is also the most natural sound, for, while all other sounds require some preparation or modification of the vocal organs, this is produced by merely dropping the under jaw, so as to open the mouth in the most easy and natural way. It is of great importance that the pupil should acquire the true sound of this element, since it prepares the way for all the others.

NOTE.—This is not the place to attempt a full description of the elements of the language; a teacher of vocal music must be supposed to be familiar with these. It may be well, however, to say, that the tonic element heard in the word Do (Doo), will be found very useful, especially for softening and smoothing the voice.

§ 93. Consonants. These should be delivered quickly, smartly, distinctly, and with the greatest precision. Yet, since they do not sing, they should be given with no more force than is necessary clearly to identify the word spoken. The neglect of a careful utterance of the consonants, is a principal cause of indistinctness in the articulation of words.

§ 94. Accent, Emphasis, and Pause. The laws to which accent, emphasis, and pause are subject in reading, should also be observed, generally, in singing; but if poetry is to receive a musical expression, it must be, to some extent, subjected to the laws of music; yet the laws of music must not be permitted to conflict with those of elocution, but such a liberal interpretation of both must be allowed as will enable the singer most happily and effectively to unite the two—speech and song.

§ 95. Finally, in all vocal performances close attention should be given to both words and music. The singer should grasp the spirit of both, and make them his own; he should make an entire surrender of himself to his work, throw in his whole soul into the performance, and produce a living song, which shall draw out his own heart, and the hearts of those who hear; so shall he produce the effect for which music is designed, and for which it is so admirably adapted.

MOUNT ZION. L. M.

Musical score for 'MOUNT ZION. L. M.' in 3/2 time. The score consists of two staves: a treble clef staff and a bass clef staff. The music is written in a style typical of 19th-century hymnals, with a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a common time signature of 3/2. The piece begins with a piano (p) dynamic and includes a crescendo (Cres.) marking. The melody is primarily in the treble staff, while the bass staff provides a harmonic accompaniment.

Great God, whose u-ni-ver-sal way, The known and unknown worlds o-bey; Now give the kingdom to thy Son, Ex-tend his power, ex-alt his throne.

NUNDA. L. M. (DOUBLE.)

Gracefully. Legato.

Musical score for 'NUNDA. L. M. (DOUBLE.)' in 3/4 time. The score is written for a double bassoon, with two staves. The key signature is one sharp (F#) and the time signature is 3/4. The piece is marked 'Gracefully. Legato.' and includes a repeat sign. The melody is written in the upper staff, and the lower staff provides a harmonic accompaniment. The score concludes with a double bar line.

1. How vain is all beneath the skies, How transient eve-ry earth-ly bliss! } 2. The evening cloud, the morning dew, }
 How slender all the fond-est ties, That bind us to a world like this! } The with'ring grass, the fading flow'r, } Of earthly hopes are emblems true, The glory of a passing hour.

3. But tho' earth's fairest blossoms die, And all be-neath the skies is vain, } 4. Then let the hope of joys to come, }
 There is a land, whose confines lie Be-yond the reach of care and pain. } Dispel our cares, and chase our fears: } If God be ours, we're trav'ling home, Tho' passing thro' a vale of tears.

 Joy to the world, the Savior reigns,
 Let men their songs employ,
 While fields and floods, rocks, hills and plains
 Repeat the sounding joy.

 No more let sin and sorrow grow,
 Nor thorns infest the ground;
 He comes to make his blessings flow
 { Far as the curse is found.

HYMN. "There is an hour of peaceful rest."

Words by WM. B. TAPPAN.
Music arranged from J. A. NAUMANN.

Slow and Soft.

1. There is an hour of peaceful rest, To mourning wanderers given: There is a joy for souls distressed, A balm for eve-ry wounded breast, 'Tis found a-lone in heaven.

2. There is a home for wea-ry souls, By sin and sor-row driven; When toss'd on life's tempestuous shoals, Where storms arise, and ocean rolls, And all is drear-'tis heaven.

p Cres. p m p Dim.

3. There faith lifts up her cheerful eye, The heart no longer riven; And views the tempest passing by, The evening shadows quickly fly, And all se-re-ne in heaven.

HYMN.      Haste, O sinner, now be wise.

Rather slow.

1. Haste, O sin-ner, now be wise; Stay not, stay not for the morrow's sun; Wisdom, if you still de-spise, Hard-er is it to be won.
 2. Haste, and mer-cy now im-plore; Stay not, stay not for the morrow's sun; Lest thy sea-son should be o'er, Ere this evening's stage be run.

3. Haste, O sin-ner, now re-turn; Stay not, stay not for the morrow's sun; Lest thy lamp should cease to burn, Ere sal-va-tion's work is done.

4. Haste, O sin-ner, now be blest; Stay not, stay not for the morrow's sun; Lest per-di-tion thee ar-rest, Ere the mor-row is be-gun.

HYMN. No war nor battle's sound

Moderato.

The 2d, 3d &amp; 4th stanzas of this hymn, by H. G. O. Dwight, Missionary, at Constantinople.

1. No war nor battle's sound Was heard the earth around, No hos-tile chiefs to fu-rious com-bat ran. But peaceful was the night, which the Prince of light,
 2. No con-queror's sword he bore, Nor war-like armor wore, Nor laughty passions rous'd to con-test wild. In peace and love he came, And gen-tle was the reign,
 3. Un-will-ing kings obeyed, And sheath'd the battle blade, And call'd their bloody le-gions from the field. In si-lent awe they wait, And close the warrior's gato,
 4. The peaceful conqueror goes, And triumphs o'er his foes, His weapons drawn from ar-mo-ries a-bove. Behold the vanquish'd sit, Sub-mis-sive at his feet,

1. { Lift not thou the wailing voice; Weep not, 'tis a Christian dieth: } { High in heav'n's own light she dwelleth; }
 { Up, where blessed saints rejoice, Ransom'd now, the sp'rit flieth: } { Full the song of triumph swelleth: } Freed from earth, and earthly failing, Lift for her no voice of wailing.

1. Beyond where Cedron's waters flow, Be-hold the suffering Sav-our go To sad Geth-sem-a - ne; His countenance is all di-vine, Yet grief ap - pears in ev' - ry line.
 2. He bows beneath the sins of men; He cries to God, and cries a-gain, In sad Geth-sem-a - ne; He lifts his mournful eyes a-bove, ' My Fa-ther, can this cup re - move.'
 3. With gentle re-sig - nation still, He yielded to his Father's will, In sad Geth-sem-a - ne; ' Behold me here, thin on - ly Son; And, Fa-ther, let thy will be done.'

4. The Father heard; and angels there, Sustain'd the Son of God in pray'r, In sad Geth-sem-a - ne; He drank the dreadful cup of pain, Then rose to life and joy a - gain.
 5. When storms of sorrow round us sweep, And scenes of anguish make us weep, To sad Geth-sem-a - ne We'll look, and see the Saviour there, And humbly bow, like him, in prayer.

In some parts of Germany the Lord's Prayer is chanted by the Lutheran Priests at the altar, to music moving (as do the lamentations of the Catholic Church) only by a few small and easy intervals, almost always within the range of one to four of the scale, and producing a peculiarly devout, child-like and supplicant expression. The music here set to the same words, is in the spirit and style of the German, and from the words "For thine is the kingdom" to the end it is almost exactly the same as was heard under the circumstances above mentioned.

HYMN. "Hail to the brightness." (11s &amp; 10s metre.)

Allegro Assai

Musical score for the hymn "Hail to the brightness." It consists of two staves, treble and bass clef, in 3/4 time. The key signature has one sharp (F#). The tempo marking "Allegro Assai" is written above the treble staff.

1. Hail to the bright-ness of Zion's glad morning! Joy to the lands that in darkness have lain; Hush'd be the accents of sorrow and mourning, Zi-on triumphant be-gins her mild reign.
2. Hail to the bright-ness of Zion's glad morning! Long by the prophets of Is-ra-el fore-told: Hail to the millions from bond-age re-turn-ing, Gentiles and Jews now the Saviour behold.
3. Lo, in the des-ert, rich flowers are spring-ing, Streams ev-er copious are glid-ing a - long; Loud from the mountains the echoes are ring-ing, Vallies in verdure a-nite in the song.
4. See from the nations, the isles of the o-ccean, Praise to Je-ho-vah as-cend-ing on high; Fall'n are the engines of war and com-mo-union, Shouts of sal-vation are rend-ing the sky

The time of this Anthem has frequently been taken much too slow. There should be three rather quick countings or beatings in a measure. The beats should be about as quick as in the ten Howard, or St. Martin's when these tunes are sung in a spirited and lively manner. The first eight measures should be sung in 15 seconds.

ISAIAH LV. 6-9.

1. Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near.
2. { Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return to the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God; for he will abundantly pardon.
3. { For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord.
4. { For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts. Amen.

GREGORIAN.

THE LORD'S PRAYER.

1. Our Father who art in heaven; hallowed be thy name Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven.
2. Give us this day our daily bread; And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive them that trespass against us.
3. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil; For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.

* This chant, from Novello's Evening Service, is sung to the "Benedictus Dominus Deus Israel," in Holy Week. It is one of the most beautiful Gregorian Chants, and is the same from which the popular tune called Hamburg was originally arranged by the editor of this work.

PSALM 27. 35-40.

1. { I have seen the wicked in great power, and spreading himself like a green bay-tree
2. { Yet he passed away, and he was not; Yea, I sought him, but he could not be found.
3. { Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright, for the end of that man is peace.
4. { But the transgressors shall be destroyed together, The end of the wicked shall be cut off.
5. { But the salvation of the righteous is of the Lord, He is their strength in time of trouble.
6. { And the Lord shall help them, and deliver them; He shall deliver them from the wicked, And save them because they trust in him. Hallelujah.

FANE. C. M.

Arranged from P. WINTER,
BY L. MASON.

Andante Grazioso. Count six moderately for a measure.

1. Soon as I heard my Father say, 'Ye children seek my grace;' My heart replied without delay, 'I'll seek my Father's face, I'll seek my Father's face.'

2. Let not thy face be hid from me, Nor frown my soul away: God of my life, I fly to thee, In each distressing day, In each distressing day.

HOWELL. C. M.

With Energy.

1. Awake, my soul, stretch ev'-ry nerve, And press with vigor on: A heavenly race demands thy zeal, A bright, immortal crown, A bright, immortal crown.
2. 'Tis God's all-an-i-ma-ting voice That calls thee from on high; 'Tis his own hand pre-sents the prize To thine as-pir-ing eye, To thine as-pir-ing eye.

3. A cloud of wit-ness-es a-round Hold thee in full sur-vey: For-get the steps al-rea-dy trod, And onward urge thy way, And onward urge thy way.
4. Blest Saviour—introduced by thee, Have we our race be-gun; And, crown'd with vic'try, at thy feet We'll lay our laurels down, We'll lay our laurels down.

Un Poco Allegro.

Op - prest with guilt, and full of fears, I come to thee, my Lord; While not a ray of hope ap-pears, But in thy ho - ly word.

Adagio e Piano.

1. Come, Ho-ly Spir-it, calm each mind, And fit us to approach our God; Remove each vain, each worldly thought, And lead us to thy blest a - bode.

2. Hast thou im - part-ed to our souls A liv - ing spark of ho - ly fire? Oh! kindle now the sacred flame; Make us to burn with pure de - sire.

NEYWOOD. C. M.

Arranged from GRAUN.

1. As pants the hart for cooling streams, When heated in the chase, So longs my soul, O God, for thee, And thy re - fresh - ing grace, And thy re - fresh - ing grace.

2. For thee, my God, the liv - ing God, My thirs - ty soul doth pine; Oh, when shall I be - hold thy face, Thou ma - jes - ty di - vine, Thou ma - jes - ty di - vine.

3. Why restless, why cast down, my soul? Trust God, and he'll employ His aid for thee, and change these sighs To thankful hymns of joy, To thankful hymns of joy.

4. Why restless, why cast down, my soul? Hope still, and thou shalt sing The praise of him who is thy God, And heaven's e - ter - nal King, And heaven's e - ter - nal King

From the Hallelujah.

Slowly.

Safe-ly thro' an-oth-er week, God has brought us on our way; Let us now a bless-ing seek, Wait-ing in his courts to-day;

Day of all the week the best, Emblem of e-ter-nal rest, Em-blem of e-ter-nal rest.

While we seek supplies of grace,
Through the dear Redeemer's name;
Show thy reconciling face—
Take away our sin and shame;
From our worldly cares set free,
May we rest this day in thee.
